Soap Sense

In buying Toilet Soap two important factors should be considered:
First—Purity.

In selecting our stock we have made a specialty of obtaining only the purest vegetable oil soaps, which do not irritate the skin and which insure a good complexion.

Second—Odor.

Our soaps are perfumed with the most delicate flower oils. They speak for themselves AND WE BACK THEM UP.

Pure Castile Soap, 20 c. per lb.
Infanta Delight, 3 bars, 35c. per box
De France Rose, 3 bars, 35c. "
Vernal Violet, 3 bars, 35c. "

We still have a few Toys and Dolls left, which are going at less than cost.

COLEMAN WINS THE LEAGUE

Ross Cup Comes To Coleman.

Fernie Was Out-classed.

The most interesting hockey game of the league series was played on the Coleman rink on Monday night. A record crowd attended and all seemed to enjoy the remarkably good play put up by both teams. Although the Fernie team were outclassed, outpointed and outweighted they hung on and were playing as gamely at the last as at the first. There is no doubt but that Coleman could well hold its own against Calgary and there is some talk of a series of matches with the northern towns.

The game was called at 9:30 and it was soon apparent to all that Coleman had the superiority. The puck was constantly in Fernie's home and the goalkeeper almost miraculously kept the peeping shots on the outside. Now and again Coleman would lose the puck and a rush would be made for the Coleman goal but Charlie Higgins was there with a sharp eye and did not allow one goal in the first half. The first half ended with the score 4-0 in Coleman's favor.

In the second half Fernie scored a good goal and seemed to take heart but the locals picked up and scored 5, 6, 7, and 8 in quick fashion. Ellis was on the fence three times and during one of these forced absences another goal was scored for Fernie. The later part of the second saw three more goals scored for Coleman and a few solitary rushes from Fernie which always ended in having the puck returning towards their own goal with superior combination. All of the locals played a good steady game and were it not for the splendid work of the Fernie goalkeeper Coleman would have piled up the goals at a prospectors' rate. The large and handsome cup that has been donated by W. Ross, M. P. P. of Fernie will come to Coleman.

LOCAL HOCKEY TEAMS PLAY A DRAW

The staff of the International and the Coleman Hotel clashed in a well-contested game on Wednesday night. Sherman was referee and he urged the boys on in great style. The score at the finish was 4-4 and this necessitates another game being played.

While it is often impossible to prevent an accident, it is never impossible to be prepared—it is not beyond any one's power, in fact, to be in a state of Chamberlain's Disinfectant and you are prepared for sprains, bruises and like injuries. Sold by all dealers.

Experience has taught the practical poultry raiser that the incubator is the only profitable means of hatching chickens. It has also demonstrated that the Perfection hot-water machine is the only incubator. If you are thinking of raising chickens it will pay you to read Mark Drumm's advertisement in this issue. If you want an incubator now is the time to order to be sure to have it in time for the hatching season.

If troubled with indigestion, constipation, no appetite or belchings, give Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets a trial and you will be pleased with the result. These tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and strengthen the digestion. Sold by all dealers.

Mark Drumm has great fowl and his fowl lay great eggs. Mr. Drumm took twelve of these fowls' eggs, placed them in his pockets and hid to Lethbridge. While he was there he was persuaded to show them at the exhibition for poultry and poultry products. He did so, and now a red ribbon can be seen gallantly flying from the popular henery at Blainmore ranch.

An attack of the grip is often followed by a persistent cough, which to many proves a great annoyance. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been extensively used and with good success for the relief and cure of the cough. Many cases have been cured after all other remedies had failed. Sold by all dealers.

Interesting Items From Our Blainmore Scribe

Mrs. Fred Jackson has returned to Blainmore with the intention of making it her home.

Lyon & Hinds purchased several thousand dollars of real estate in Lethbridge this week.

A party of young folks attended the dance given in Frank on the 1st and report having an enjoyable time.

E. Culver, formerly of Blainmore, now of Calgary, paid the village a visit last week, renewing old acquaintances.

H. E. Lyon left for Calgary this week on a business trip, and will make Lethbridge and other points a visit before returning.

W. R. Cross of Spokane is in the village this week looking over the Rocky Mountain Cement companies plant in which he is interested.

Wasyl Vharuk, a miner at Hillcrest who received many internal injuries as well as a broken leg, died last week. An inquest was held and the verdict was for accidental death.

Miss Margie Roaback of Frank who is visiting her parents here maintains that Blainmore is the only place to live. Still Frank has its attractions, eh? We wonder why.

Mrs. G. A. Passmore of Michel arrived in town last week and has taken abode in the living apartments of the C. P. R. station. She is very much pleased with her new location.

Mr. G. A. Passmore, C. P. R. agent at Michel is being transferred here to relieve A. S. Hartman, who in turn is being transferred to another point. Mr. Passmore is to be permanent agent here.

H. E. Lyon of the firm of Lyon & Hinds, while in Calgary this week, secured one hundred and fifty choice lots of close in property which will be placed on sale immediately. These lots will be sold on very easy terms and a guarantee will be given with each lot. If you are not satisfied with your purchase in one year, money will be returned with 8%.

The guarantee feature is something new in the real estate business.

LOCAL MAN WINS AT POULTRY SHOW

Mark Drumm of Frank took in the poultry show at Lethbridge last week and carried off first prize for the best showing of eggs. Mr. Drumm's eggs were so superior to any others shown that the judge in passing upon the egg exhibit hardly glanced over it before ordering the first prize to be awarded his eggs which were of a deep brown and absolutely uniform in color, shape and size, points in which none of the other exhibits could compare at all favorably.

Mr. Drumm's eggs were laid by his pure bred barred Plymouth Rock hens. He has a notable winter laying strain of rocks as is shown by the fact that from less than fifty hens he is gathering as high as two dozen eggs daily and has been for some time.

When the hatching season opens he expects to supply eggs from this strain of barred rocks for hatching purposes in almost any quantity.

The price will be $1.50 for a setting of thirteen or $10 per hundred for in cubator settings.

PARLIAMENT WILL VOTE FOR P. R.

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—This was a railway day in the commons, the most important occurrence, so far as western Canada is concerned, being the important announcement that parliament will be asked to vote money this session with which to commence the construction of the Hudson Bay railway. This statement was coupled with the declaration that the government had made the construction of this line a matter of definite policy, and would proceed with all possible speed. The minister expressed his belief in the statement that the building of the railway would mean a saving of 50 per bushel on wheat shipped from the west.

In connection with the I. C. R. statement, the minister announced a surplus of over $200,000 on the operations for the first six months of the fiscal year. For this he was criticized by E. M. McDonald, Liberal member for Pictou, who contended that the surplus should have been put into the road.

Hon. W. S. Fielding announced that the railroad was in respect to the Franco-Canadian treaty had been today reaffirmed in Paris, and that the treaty is now in full effect between the two countries.

F. VAN DUSEN MEETS DEATH

Large Rock Fell On Him—Partner Has a Narrow Escape.

Another of Coleman's miners met death on Monday morning in the International mine. He was working in a room in No. 4 when a rock nine by one foot fell from the roof and pinned him to the floor. Upon examination it was found that his neck was broken. His partner R. Easton had a narrow escape as the rock passed immediately over him. The deceased leaves a widow and four children the youngest of which is only ten days old. He was buried at Coleman cemetery on Wednesday morning. The Rev. T. M. Murray held the services and T. W. Davies conducted the undertaking.

An inquest was held on Tuesday at four o'clock and the following jurymen were empaneled by Coroner Disney: Foreman A. Morrison, D. J. McIntyre, W. L. Bridgford, D. J. Rogerson, W. Crauford and J. Unsworth. The verdict rendered was for accidental death.

A WOMAN'S WORK.

Could anything be a better illustration of the way women do their work as compared with the way men do theirs, than to look over a village of say, a thousand families, on Monday? In a thousand little kitchens a thousand women would be seen thrusting wood into a thousand little cook stoves, heating a thousand little wash boilers, bending their backs over a thousand little washboards, and hanging their clothes on a thousand little clothes lines.

If, by some singular social revolution, the men of such a village were to undertake to do the work there first step would be to get up a stock company, invest capital in building and machinery, so organize the work that about a half dozen men would do the work for the whole town, receive good salaries therefor, and the rest of the men would go about their own business on Monday just as on any other days.

COLEMAN'S CARNIVAL

The proprietors of the rink and the business men of Coleman are arranging for an elaborate carnival on Feb. 14th, which is sure to attract large numbers from all the towns of the Pass. A large number of handsome prizes have been given by the business men and there is no doubt but that the carnival will be successful from every standpoint. R. R. Webb is prepared to receive orders for costumes.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE REBEKAH LODGE

The anniversary of the Victoria Rebekah lodge occurs on March 9th, and great preparations are being made to make the red letter day one that will be remembered long. A ball will be given in the Opera House and games will be played on the stage during the evening. An orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion.

Etiquette and Sentiment for Letter Writers

To know all the ins and outs of graceful letter writing is one of the most delightful gifts which can be bestowed on man or woman. The art sublime to paint our scribbled pages with living thoughts, put down in just the right word, is not given to all; but it is incumbent upon those who aspire to polite recognition to cultivate a style of writing which will at least indicate good breeding and a fair education. Many an aspirant for a "job" has been damned by unformed handwriting almost, and in the frothy and desirable circle of society nothing seems more indicative of ignorance.

The social or business aspirant, then, must look first to forming the hand, though what is sauce for the goose is not sauce for the gander in this case. The angular English hand, with letters of absolutely enormous size, is the one affected by women of smart pretension, but for a man to use this would be thought feminine in the extreme. Masculine handwriting must be without affectation, with rounded letters and bold shading; and all letters should be free from blots and knife-erasures, and show only such punctuation as is absolutely needed for sense. To get a letter fairly peppered with commas, colons and semi-colons is a positive fatigue to the reader, for the mind bails with every stop and in the end the letter has lost the vigor it might otherwise reveal. For ordinary letter and note writing only the comma and period are used, the first marking the pause which would naturally come in with the spoken word, and the last terminating the sentence.

Good black ink is essential for all correspondence, a plain white paper of good style is required, every "T" must be properly dotted, every "c" crossed, words must be properly spelled, and all numerals and words written out and not put in numbers or abbreviations.

"We caught a salmon and Joe," Joseph of course—"felt so good," etc., etc., is a stupid way to tell of the fishing. The salmon were three in number, and St. Phillips Joseph, in a letter at least, is entitled to all the letters in his name. Also, let me pray you to eschew the lead pencil whose use is so common to persons who have not given much thought to the polite side of mere implements; for a letter or social note written in lead pencil is atrociously bad form. The use of ruled paper shows "goodness," and to cross a letter is a crime punishable by the entire absence of the postman. Who wants to write to a person who habitually crisscrosses every other page, when paper is so cheap, eyes so dear, and time the rapid thing it is!

For polite correspondence one sort of paper is used, and for business letters—especially those of mere matter. The social letter or note is written on thick note paper of pure or creamy whiteness, square envelopes going with the color in which the letter is folded only once, slips with ease. A business letter may be on a single large sheet of paper or on letter paper of sensible size; but though it may be typewritten the signature must be put in by hand, and in no case must this civility and business precaution be withheld. The business letter is also short, respectful and to the point—never more than a page, except in very important cases, and preferably far less, and it begins with the name of the firm to which it is addressed, this being followed by "Dear Sir" or "Dear Madam," and the letter ending "Very truly yours" before the signature.

The signature in polite circles never shows the initials of Mr., Mrs., or Miss, but is written in full, "Alice C. Granger" or "James K. Smith," the address of the correspondent, which is given elsewhere, containing the Mrs., Miss, or Mr. But though it is the proper thing for a man to sign his name on his visiting card, it is neither uncommon nor improper for him to write his address for any and everybody without it, though these little letters are very significant of social status when they are given as a matter of course with an address. As a delightful person who died in his books, "When a man signs himself MISTER Bill Brady you know he has been brought up a gentleman."

The form of a social note or letter to a person whose acquaintance requires both formality and graciousness, is sometimes a very difficult thing to the bravest man, though a nineteen-year-old girl who is afraid of a mouse may safely cross the Rubicon.

Therefore, let the bashful man begin by gathering his scattered thoughts to a focus—think for a moment of what he wants to say. Then let him pick up his pen and say it in a simple, unassuming fashion, suppress himself to the utmost dignity and courtesy and yet in his own natural way, for all things said and done, the personality of a nice, square, honest man—any living vibrant personality—is the thing which adds value to the moment's letter and makes the pile of paper precious at last. If he were to begin his letter to the kind woman who has asked him to dine, with "I am downright glad you thought of me," instead of with a more dignified phrase, though it might not be the choicest English, it would rank him still as a very fine gentleman.

The ordinary acceptance of any social invitation would read as follows: My Dear Mr. Granger: I am in receipt of your gracious word and will be delighted to come Friday night. Pray give my best regards to Mr. Granger, and believe me cordially yours, William Brady.

Dame Fashion's Dream of Overskirts and Other Ancient Revivals

FIG. A—A PRINCESS DRESS EASILY MADE BY THE HOME SEWER

FASHION'S Autumn mood plainly indicated her penchant for draped skirts, or trimming arrangements which imitate them. There are a dozen and one suggestions of yesteryear's overskirt of pin-back period, these being simulated with deep point or round yokes, or else with braids and bands which follow the lines of an overdress. Trimmed waist and side panels are counted, and there is one princess design which looks for all the world like a long tailed jersey with a pleated flounce served on the bottom. The fit of the waist-portion of gowns is growing looser, too, and along with the wrapper-like gowns which accustom the comfortable state of things, there are conventional coats and skirts which so nearly follow the best traditions of a dozen seasons that they cannot help but be a comfort to the many. The wearers of the medium thing, the style which conforms to common sense and usefulness, are always more numerous than those who demand the ultra novelty, and so, very wisely, shops and private makers largely consider them.

So far there are no marked departures in materials. There are the same smooth cloth, the plain and ribbed serge, the plain and patterned silk, velvets figured, striped, or showing only their rich reds, deep blues or malachite browns, for Autumn has its traditions, painting always, whatever else is to appear, the colors of the natural world. In fact, as far as the Autumn gown goes, the usual rule holds good. Buy colors in sympathy with the season, consider your type with the design of the frock and go to work, for faint and doubtful heart never yet found a wardrobe prepared for a new season. Hark! Well, it must be admitted that they are not yet prolific in the matter of good sense, for the choicer models spread wide at the brim and there curl over at some point which demands Price for perfection. And with these things and high crowns they also take to feathery ornamentations of a fly-away sort once compatible with madness. Upon no bird of earth were these wild feather bunches ever grown—that is, not with their present scenic points, tints and confusion. But though lacking in wisdom (it may be a weakness to confess it) I must say that the hats in themselves are beautiful. Straws of a satin fineness and richly tinted Panama, together with fancy silk and straw braids, will be used for the first Autumn hats, and it goes without saying that the bulk of the new headgear will still require careful and generous hair arrangement. By and by it is reported that they are to have something sensible in the way of loques, and for the average head these will be much more becoming than the splendid hats now seen. To home sewers, these who must invent reasonable materials into reasonable effects, the week's models may be not permissible. The acquaintance or average friend sends a visiting card only, with the words, "With deepest sympathy, written above the name on the face side of the card."

For the letters of true friendship and tender kinship, sentiment plays a great part, and a letter to a dear friend or parent or brother or sister cannot be too fond in its expressions of love or appreciation. Life is all too short and hard for us to emphasize the burden by a passionate page of hard, cold words. Each human soul needs the sympathy of the brother soul, and many a tender page from somebody held dear has helped a faltering heart to weather the gales of earth. Abusive language has no place at any time in polite letter writing, and since the written word is in a way eternal remember at all times, and to all persons, to put down only the sen-be recommended. Each article displayed represents a phase of Autumn in its particular line, and all measurements consider the medium figure.

FIG. D—A SENSIBLE SCHOOL FROCK

FIG. B—ONE OF AUTUMN'S MOST USEFUL OFFERINGS

Design A—Here is a princess costume much admired and easy to turn out by those even only fairly efficient with the needle. The full length panels give the slenderest still required for artistic results, and the pleated portions at the side allow ease and grace for walking. The gown is especially suited to slim young persons and could be made in a soft wool or silk or in a wash material. In the illustration the gown is realized in a coarse French linen in dull red with braiding the same tint, the material and color being eminently suited to September and October when the weather is cool.

Quantities call for ten yards of line 34 inches wide, 1 yard in 32, 5 1/2 yards in 53 inch width.

Design B—This single breasted coat shows one of the most useful garments of Autumn, for while forming part of a costume, if made of serge or cloth it could also serve as wrap for other costumes.

The lines are extremely smart, the front seams, which run from the shoulder to hem, accomplishing the slight fit needed, while in no wise interfering with the ease of the coat.

The sleeves are in two portions, and the pockets are put bias to prevent the square-hip look that a straight adjustment of them would create. Cover cloth, serge, cheviot or broadcloth are all suitable materials for a costume coat or separate one. A pleated skirt with plain front panel or else a circular model, going well with either model.

The quantity of material required for broadcloth or serge 44 inches wide is three yards. For the shawl collar shown by the smaller view of the coat 1/4 yard of contrasting material—velvet, satin or taffeta—would be needed.

Design C—Two skirts very typical of the new season are here shown, one admitting a very dressy bodice and the other suiting itself admirably to practical shirtwaists. For all round use, the inexpensive checked wools here used could be employed to advantage, for such materials are always stylish and effective, especially when a checked skirt is topped by a smart coat in a plain stuff.

The skirt with the trimmed front panel could be made from 5 1/2 yards of cheviot 34 inches wide, the price of the material not exceeding thirty cents a yard.

The yoke skirt, which is one of the pin-back overdress suggestions, would be most dapper in black and white. Of course, the style from its very frivolidness, is not suited to any but youthful and slim figures. According to the width of the goods, the model would call for 8 1/2, 9 1/2, or 10 yards.

Design D—Field materials are always pretty for children, and this little dress gives an excellent idea for a sensible school frock in any of the bright enlivening wool and cotton textures, which, as ever with fall, now crowd the counters. For a dark child a Scotch plaid, in which there is red, white and black, would be very pretty, though a fair child would look better in grayish blue or brown and white.

For a girl of twelve years of age the dress will require 8 1/2 yards of material 34 inches wide, and 6 yard of plain stuff for the band.

They will lie flatly in the dish. Boil them until tender but not enough to risk their breaking. Then arrange them in a fat baking dish on a bed of the boiled outside leaves so as to make them look like a whole cauliflower. Sprinkle thickly with grated Parmesan cheese, add a tablespoonful of butter, put over the mound in bits, sprinkle all with breadcumbs and bake until well browned.

Seasonable Recipes

Creamed Cabbage.—The tender new green cabbages with pointed tops and delicate flavor are required for this dish. For four persons who are fond of this excellent and nourishing vegetable two cabbages would be needed. Drop the well washed halves or quarters in boiling salted water and cook till tender. Then drain and cut them up in big slices, and serve the dish piping hot with a boiled sauce made of a cupful of cream, thickened with a teaspoonful of flour and seasoned with a little salt and black pepper.

Farmer's Mince.—A hard white cabbage may be used for this. Remove outside leaves and turn down others to see that all dirt is removed. A warty cabbage must be discarded as the vegetable must be parboiled whole. Put it in a large pot of briskly boiling water and cook for twenty minutes, taking care to take it out before the shape has altered. Let it chill a little and then carefully turn back the outside leaves and cut a large hole down from the top, removing the heart. Fill the cavity with highly seasoned forcemeat—chopped beef, ham or chicken—and securely pin the outer leaves over the filling with a meat skewer. Then dredge lightly with flour and meat drippings and bake in a slow oven, basting as with roast.

This delicious mince is wonderfully cooked by some of the old French negroes who are still to be found in South Carolina and Louisiana. As a fancy dinner it is usually the only meat dish supplied.

Condiments and Pan-fried Cheese.—Cut the flowers from the stems so that

Coleman, Friday, February 4, 1910

DEPARTURE OF J. D. S. BARRETT

The interests of the Foothills Job Print and News Company which have so long been closely and intimately associated with J. D. S. Barrett, are about to be severed for some time, as it is Mr. Barrett's intention to attend New Westminster University and seek and secure a fuller and stronger education in English and journalistic work. There is no doubt but that Mr. Barrett's departure from Coleman, the scene of his past labors, will be regretted by his large circle of friends with whom he has been closely identified in both public and church work.

The desire of Mr. Barrett to enter college is a desire which has permeated too few in this community where the commercial life stands altogether too prominently. In a short while the lack of college and technical education will react on our commercial success and leave us in much the same condition as Germany found herself twenty-five years ago. Since then schools adequate for the needs of a great commercial nation have been instituted, and as a result Germany is now the recognized leader in the modern pursuits of commerce. The Miner congratulates Mr. Barrett on his progressiveness and extends to him the best wishes of the entire staff.

EDITORIAL NOTES

A general of hospital is sadly needed in Coleman. Some one has suggested that the town raffle off "Dolly Varden" trout during Lent.

For fuller information as to getting cheaper whiskey into Ireland apply to John Redmond, fire-boss of the British House of Commons.

The Free Press complains that O. N. Ross was sandwiched in our souvenir edition. There is no doubt but that he could supply a whole picnic.

It is now an established fact that New Westminster is the lacrosse town of the Pacific slope and that Coleman is the hockey town of the same territory.

One paper in the east says that total abstinence from meat will make the trusts come down in their prices, while another paper says that total abstinence from meat will make millions of dollars of reformers. Which is right?

There is a difference between the ways of politics in the old country and Canada. In the old country they are talking about Recovery for penitence. In this country if a man who had bolted both parties as often and persisted in his Recovery had, he would stand one chance in ten thousand of being appointed penitentiary keeper if there was any one else prepared to take the job. —Alberta's Calgary.

LITERARY SOCIETY-FORMED

A large and enthusiastic meeting was held in the club rooms of the Institutional church on Tuesday evening when the Coleman Literary and Recreation Society was formed. Before the organization work was begun an interesting program was rendered and was much enjoyed by all.

The following officers were elected: Honorary presidents, A. C. Flumme and Alex Cameron. President, T. B. Williams. Vice-president, R. Holmes. Sec.-Treas., D. MacMillan. Editor, Rev. T. M. Murray. Committee: T. Steel, D. Davies, J. McKeggan, J. Glendinning.

The society will hold weekly meetings at 8 P. M. on every Tuesday as in past years and every member is looking forward to a most successful season.

Coleman Locals Continued

William Hatfield, an old-time resident of Pincher Creek, died this week. Joe Reid is matched to boy Jack Clark at Tabern on February 12th.

Mark Drumm has resigned from the Frank council.

The souvenir edition of the Coleman Miner is very good. Enterprising Coleman will be benefited by the production—The Moyle Leader.

"Com" Whalen, proprietor of the Napanee Hotel, Fernie, accompanied the Fernie hockey team to Coleman. After the game Mr. Whalen entertained a number of Fernie "sold boys".

The Summers' Spack Co. played to another huge house last night and, as usual they played splendidly. They have a strong company and their specialties are alone worth the admission. To-night and Saturday night should be attractive plays for every theatre-going Colemanite.

A souvenir edition of Coleman Miner contains a half tone of our esteemed townsman, O. N. Ross sandwiched in between the corner and the undertaker of that place. We hope it will be a long time before Dad will require the professional services of his right and left tower.—Fernie Free Press.

REFORMING INEBRIATES

(Lethbridge Herald.)

The proper care of inebriates has been one of the problems facing their relatives, the police authorities and the humanitarian. The general policy of locking a man up in jail for a term every once in awhile has been found to avail little or nothing in helping a man to overcome the unfortunate position in which he has placed himself. Down in Ontario there is a society known as the Society for the Reformation of Inebriates, under such able leadership as Professor George M. Wrong of Toronto University, Hon. H. C. Briggs, Dr. A. M. Rossborough, and others. The society is doing what it can to reclaim the unfortunate. They recognize that the drink habit is accompanied by a diseased nervous system and what the majority of them need is medical treatment. Accordingly as many as will allow it, are taken to a hospital or to a small farm where they are treated and given exercise such as to free the whole system from the disease. This is but one line of social and moral reform undertaken in a practical way to make men out of those who have lost hope, strength and self-respect. To the average man such treatment appears better than the usual thirty days for being d. and.

A NEW ORDER

The newspaper men and printers of the southern towns have formed a new fraternal order and an effort to secure a charter will immediately be made. The committee of the whole has decided to call the order the "Rangers" and already the membership is increasing fast. The idea is to promote free relations with other offices and brothers. There is no doubt but that the order will grow and extend in general.

The officials which have already been elected are: Past President, J. D. S. Barrett. President, T. B. Brandon. Vice-president, J. A. McDonald. Supreme secretary, W. J. Bartlett. Supreme treasurer, F. J. Kirkpatrick. Chaplain, J. W. Sadler.

FATAL ACCIDENT NEAR LETHBRIDGE

A terrible wreck occurred at Winnipeg, ten miles northwest of Lethbridge on the abandoned Crowsnest line, about 2 o'clock this afternoon. A work train with a gang was tearing down a section of track. The train was standing on the bridge with a narrow ridge separating them. The men were working on the bridge, and had a few joints loose on the bridge farther west, when the whole bridge collapsed and almost simultaneously the bridge on either side went down, taking with it the engine, tender and several cars while the balance of the train went down on the other bridge.

One man was jammed between two cars and killed immediately. Another a foreigner, was badly crushed, and is nearly dead. Others, including Engineer Moore, whose engine turned over completely with him, are badly injured. All the doctors in the city were quickly on the scene, with nurses from the hospitals.

MORE RECRUITS FOR N. W. M. P.

Toronto, Feb. 2.—Forty-nine recruits were enlisted by Inspector Fitzgerald for the N. W. M. P. and dispatched to the mounted police police depot at Regina. The men are all exceptionally fine physique. All the men enlisted in Toronto.

When man is a success he claims the credit when he is a failure he finds some woman to blame for it.

"THE GREAT DIVIDE"

This is a play that deals with life in Arizona in the earlier days. The Jordan family have a pond on a watercourse. So they secure a tract of land in Arizona and both Jordan and her brother Philip go out to work and everything is progressing favorably. Philip's wife comes out from the east and is accompanied by Winthrop Newberry, a young doctor who is in love with Ruth. The first act opens in the house on the ranch with all these people on the scene, and happy William's wife, just preparing to leave and it has been arranged that Philip is to go to the station with her and on his return bring back some stores that are needed. Newberry has a hurry up call to attend a cow puncher who has broken his leg. This leaves Ruth alone in the house. Shortly after this Stephen Ghent, Pedro, and Dutch, three desperadoes, appear on the scene drunk, and here starts one of the most dramatic scenes on record. Stronger than the girl of the Golden West, Dutch and Pedro commence to shake dice for her and in order to save herself from them she asks Stephen to save her and that she will be all she is and can be under the law to him. He buys off Pedro with a chain of nuggets, but Dutch is harder to buy, so they agree to fight for her, the best one to get her. Of course Stephen succeeds in wounding Dutch, but is shot in the arm himself. Ruth and Steve leave the end of the first act.

The last act is in Boston. Ruth has become a mother. Her husband arrives and pleads with her for another chance. The play abounds in dramatic situations and is full of human tenderness and feeling.

Miss Belle Stevenson as Ruth Jordan gives a splendid performance as her personality and temperament are especially suited to the demands of this part. Miss Stevenson is an actress of long experience but she confesses that this is one of the best parts that she has ever handled.

The above play will be presented by the Summer Stock Co. at the Coleman Opera House on Thursday, Feb. 28th, when they will open a three night's engagement. Change of play and vaudeville nightly. Prices $1.00 and 75c at Webb's drug store.

A SAMPLE LETTER

Jan. 12th, 1910.
"Coleman Miner",
Coleman, Alberta.

Gentlemen:—
We are very much pleased with the copy of your souvenir edition. Will you kindly advise us how many you have on hand, and at what price you are selling them?

Awaiting your reply, we are,
Yours Very Truly,
Sharp & Irvine Co.

A few minutes delay in treating some cases of croup, even the length of time it takes to go for a doctor often proves dangerous. The safest way is to keep Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and at the first indication of croup give the child a dose. Pleasing to take and always cures. Sold by all dealers.

Clark's moving picture show which made a decided hit here on Monday night last will appear here again Monday, Feb. 7. Large numbers were attracted by these pictures and all were well pleased.

Sensitive people seem to enjoy sensitiveness. They are always on the lookout for something to give them pain. They are much like a cat who will be with a tail forty feet long, dragging around on the floor ready to be trampled upon. We are crowded pretty thick upon life's great thoroughfare, and can't well help elbowing each other as we pass along. Ninety-nine times out of every hundred no harm is intended, but those sensitive people, who have the longest and sharpest elbows of anybody, are always attributing a motive to every accident they get. "The fact is, personal importance is at the bottom of this whole thing. The world is not thinking about you—has no desire to hurt you—but you imagine that the whole world should be run in your interest."

There is sweet music in every home where the heart strings are touched by gentleness and courtesy. The mild word, the gentle answer, the tender act the patient consideration, will reach chords of kindness and make sweet melody in the family as everywhere. A desolate, dreary place is a home devoid of those little courtesies which are practiced in the best social life.

SPARKING WELL OF ONE'S ENEMIES.

While spending the winter in Georgia, before his inauguration as President, Mr. Taft went to the city of Athens to deliver an address to the students of the University of Georgia. He met a member of the faculty—a staunch democrat—who said:

"Judge, I voted the Democratic ticket but wanted to see you win."

Judge Taft replied:
"You remind me of the story of Brer Jasper and Brer Johnson, who were both deacons in the Shilo Baptist church, although avowed enemies. Brer Jasper died and other deacons told Brer Johnson he must say something good about the deceased on Sunday night. At first he declined, but finally consented."

"Sunday night, when the time for the eulogy arrived, he arose slowly and said: 'Brother-n and Sister-n, I promised to say something good 'bout Deacon Jasper tonight, an' I will say we all hopes he's gone whar we know he ain't.'"

Cowley Notes

Mrs. H. R. Parker paid a visit to Pincher Creek Monday.

A. H. Gunn returned to Calgary last week.

W. T. Eddy, of Lundbreck, was in town on Monday.

Harvey Bouthillier went to Coleman on Tuesday.

The weather conditions of the past week have been very unfavorable to hockeyists.

J. Kenn paid a visit to Lethbridge last last week and returned Tuesday morning.

Rumor has it that Cowley is soon to have a branch of the Merchants bank.

C. P. Cyr is opening up a butcher shop in the Askey building and is having his apartments fitted up in first-class style.

A new freight shed has been longed for and our people are jubilant at knowing the long-looked-for is in sight. The old shed is about 18 x 24 feet, one third of which has been utilized as a coal store.

Supt. Price, of the C. P. R., who is on an inspection tour of the south-western division, arrived here Monday morning. In an interview Mr. Price stated the intention of the company to erect a new freight shed and make many other improvements in and around our railway depot.

Mr. Mathieson, of the Union Bank, leaves here next week to engage in the newspaper business with N. W. Mowat, of the Pincher Creek Echo. Mr. Mathieson has spent some time in Cowley, during which he has made numerous friends. We take this opportunity of wishing him every success in his new venture.

The Michel Reporter, referring to a recent announcement that the editor of the Cowley Chronicle was expecting his fiancée from Newfoundland in the person of Mrs. Ichabod Bartimeous Tumliche, asks "What's in a name?" Well, there must be a lot of "squaw" in that one although the Greenwood Ledge says "one of the finest girls in Newfoundland."

Mr. Drew was in town on Monday making arrangements for re-building the Alberta hotel. It is said that T. W. Davies of Coleman has secured the building contract and will start work at once. The new building will be constructed on the most modern principles, will be plastered throughout and fitted with hot and cold water appliances and be one of the finest buildings in town.

J. W. May, conductor on the Little train, is on the sick list at present. We all hope to see him around soon.

The church services continue to grow in interest through the able ministry of Rev. Mr. McNeill and also through the efforts of the choir. The singing has improved of late and on Sunday evening last we had a quartette that was well rendered. Those taking part were, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Johnson, M. Griffiths and D. J. Griffiths.

Thirty Day Slaughter Sale

OF Kootenay Fruit Lands

I am instructed by the Columbia River Orchards, Ltd., to place on the market for quick sale their entire Central Park Subdivision on the Columbia River, Kootenay District of British Columbia, consisting of 66 Lots, at from $30 to $380 per Lot

$5.45 to $31.50 per acre

Terms: $10 cash and $10 per month. No Interest. Taxes paid until 1911.

On March 27th, 1910, Mr. J. D. Anderson, B. C. Land Surveyor, wrote us, with reference to the Central Park property as follows:

The more I see of this particular block the more highly I think of it. There is no possible doubt but this is very high grade fruit land, and it is a pity that settlers are not already on it. It is so easy to clear, and the land is the characteristic high grade fruit land of this district, that is sure to be in time, a very profitable tract. It compares very favorably with the Dunkletons' land at Waterloo and the McKenzies' land at Champion Creek below Waterloo, held at $50 to $150 per acre.

Never before have B. C. Fruit Lands been offered at such ridiculous prices. Price is no object. These lands MUST BE SOLD within 30 days. The owners have given definite instructions to sell every lot regardless of price. This is, I believe, the first time the public has been given the opportunity to buy Fruit Lands at such prices.

Maps, surveyor's reports on each lot and application forms will be mailed on request.

MINERS WANT BIGGER WAGES.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 4.—Ten cent a day for increase on all coal mined is demanded for the bituminous coal miners in the report of the state committee of the United Mine Workers of America submitted to its convention today. New wage contracts are to be made in the following districts:
Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Western Pennsylvania, Central Pennsylvania, Kansas, Arkansas, Missouri, Indian Territory, Texas, West Virginia, Colorado, Washington, Wyoming, Montana, and British Columbia. An equivocal increase was demanded for inside and outside work. An eight-hour day was also asked.

ENCOURAGE HOME ENTERPRISE.

Encourage every home enterprise.
Taken interest in every industry, invest liberally in the stock of faith and good will, and distribute it all over your town, in every workshop, every business place and on the farm. It will give you large dividends and will not cost you a cent. It is a very depreciate asset. It will always be above par. Buy home made goods. Ask your merchant for them. When home made goods are sold home made articles of food, even to home made food, read home made newspapers. In this way the money you spend is only loaned. It will come back to you again with interest. Praise up your town—don't run it down. Stand by your merchants and manufacturers—they are the backbone of your municipal structure. Stand by your churches and your schools—they are the hopes of your future. Stand by your press—it is the tireless sentinel that guards your interest.
